

ULUSLARARASI TEMSİL IFALPA BELGESİ

Belge: IFALPA Daily News – 9 May 2013

Tarih: 10.05.2013

Kaynak: IFALPA haberleri · talpa.org

Dear Colleagues,

The IFALPA Daily News is now available online.

Here are today's top headlines. To read more, click on the title:

Volcanic ash suspends flights at Mexican airport

Flights to and from Puebla airport, southeast of Mexico City, were halted on Wednesday morning as ash from the nearby Popocatepetl volcano covered the runway, a state government official said.

Boeing warns against US Ex-Im Bank closure

Closure of the US Export-Import Bank would have very serious consequences for Boeing and hand a competitive advantage to its rival Airbus, a senior executive at Boeing's financing arm said.

Air New Zealand faces \$10 million fine for cargo price-fixing

Air New Zealand could face a fine of up to $10 million if allegations that it conspired with other airlines to fix cargo prices are proved.

Pilot career is losing its appeal, shows survey

A new survey by the University of North Dakota Aviation Department suggests that young people are being turned off by the prospect of a career as an airline pilot.

Smell forces pilots to land with Oxygen masks

A dizzy and nauseous captain and his co-pilot were forced to wear oxygen masks as they landed a plane carrying 139 passengers at Heathrow Airport.

Turkish Airlines makes U-turn on red lipstick ban

Turkish Airlines is quashing a ban on female flight attendants wearing red lipstick and nail polish, its chief executive said today, after an outcry by secular Turks worried the country is becoming too Islamic.

Man who faked his way into cockpit pleads guilty to fraud

The man who conned his way into the cockpit of an US Airways flight in March pleaded guilty Wednesday in Philadelphia to one count of fraud in connection with an identification document.